The Section 179 Deduction is great for businesses. And combined with Equipment Financing/Leasing, it can make a huge "bottom line" difference for the foreseeable future.

Here's how this works:
1) You purchase equipment you need, and finance it over several years with Crest Capital. The below graph assumes 50k worth of equipment.

2) You take a full Section 179 deduction at tax time. This works out to about $17,500 in net tax savings – real dollars you get to keep.

3) Your payment is $1,120. Without any other factors, your tax savings can cover 15 ½ months of payments.

4) But there ARE other factors – you’re using your new equipment this entire time, which increases your revenue (sometimes significantly.)

---

Section 179 Qualified Financing - literally money in the bank!

This is an example of increased cash flow from financing the equipment with Crest Capital, and using Section 179. In plain terms, your bank account is bigger because you bought and financed equipment.

---

The Bottom Line:
You purchased new equipment to help your business grow. And by doing so, you saved $17,500 on your tax bill. Instead of going to Uncle Sam, this money stays in your bank account.

And because you financed the equipment, the deduction will likely exceed the total amount of the payments you already made, immediately boosting your cash flow.

That's Why Section 179 and Equipment Financing is a Smart Combination.
This is it - this is “our” government bailout. Section 179 is the only government help that small and medium sized businesses are going to get, both now, and likely for the future. But as you can see, it’s especially effective, particularly when combined with financed equipment. It will add to your bottom line, and ensures that you don’t truly start paying for your needed equipment until well into the future.

Equipment Financing and Section 179 Frequently Ask Questions

Equipment financing / Section 179 combo is advantageous... but what equipment qualifies?

- Equipment (machines, etc) purchased for business use
- Business Vehicles with a gross vehicle weight in excess of 6,000 lbs
- Computers, Office Furniture, Office Equipment
- Property attached to your building that is not a structural component of the building
- Partial Business Use (equipment that is purchased for business use and personal use - generally, your deduction will be based on the percentage of time you use the equipment for your business purposes.)

What about used equipment?

Most used equipment qualifies for Section 179 if it is new to you.

But can I finance used equipment?

It depends on your equipment financing partner. Happily, in most cases, Crest Capital does finance used equipment.

Do I have to do this now to take advantage of Section 179?

Yes, the Section 179 deduction for this year expires at midnight, 12/31. Your equipment must be purchased/financed and put into service by then.

Also remember that this is needed business equipment. The earlier you buy it, the earlier you can start benefitting from it.

Visit www.CrestCapital.com today and take advantage of our excellent rates, fast service, and hassle-free Section 179-qualified financing and leasing. As a bonus, we’re giving away “$179 per $10,000 financed” in the form of a gift card. You get needed equipment, a nice tax deduction, and bonus cash as well! Click Here for details.